

GROWING HOME

USDA-CERTIFIED ORGANIC CSA

Growing Home's CSA includes 7-9 main vegetables, plus an assortment of herbs or smaller produce items. The CSA has a higher retail value than what a CSA customer spends. At Growing Home, we grow particular varieties for our CSA customers and make sure CSA boxes are plentiful first and foremost. We host both a full share (16 boxes every week) and half share (8 boxes every other week). Our 2020 CSA will run from the weekend of June 20 - October 3 with one additional make up week.

Full Share

A full share is $560 (price goes up to $600 after April 30). Pick up starts the weekend of June 20 and continues each week until the weekend of October 3.

Share is 16 boxes total.

Half Share

A half share is $260 (price goes up to $300 after April 30). Pick-up starts the weekend of June 27 and continues every other week until the weekend of October 3.

Share is 8 boxes total.

Sponsorship Share

A sponsorship share for $1,120 (full share) or $520 (half share) purchases two CSAs-- one for you, and one for a family in Englewood where access to fresh, healthy food is limited.

Growing Home requires at least half your payment before the CSA begins. The other half must be paid by July 17, 2020. Visit our website at www.growinghomeinc.org to submit a payment.

Questions can be emailed to csa@growinghomeinc.org.

What is a CSA?

CSA Stands for Community Supported Agriculture. It began as a way for farms and farmers to get income during the time when they have the least and need it the most in the off-season. Community members can purchase a share early on when it's cold, and then get box after delicious box of produce once it gets warm... all without paying another cent! Its also a way for food lovers to guarantee they're getting fresh, seasonal produce from a place they can see. CSA members get to know the staff at the farm, ask questions, and have a sense of where their food really comes from.

About Growing Home:

Growing Home is Chicago's first and only USDA certified organic high production farm. We work to empower healthy people and communities in the South Side of Chicago through our innovative work in urban agriculture. We run a farm-based employment training program to help individuals with barriers to employment find and keep stable, full-time jobs. Through our USDA-certified organic farms, we also seek to provide healthy, fresh food and food education to our neighbors in Englewood.
