MAJOR COMPONENTS OF THE PROGRAM

Job Readiness Training

All Production Assistants participate in a comprehensive Job Readiness curriculum while at Growing Home. Topics and skills covered in the curriculum include interview prep, cover letter and resume writing, professional communication, managing workplace conflict, developing executive skills, basic computer skills and many others.

TIP

TIP is a psychological self-sufficiency program that Growing Home facilitates in a group-work context. Developed by Dr. Philip Hong at Loyola University, the program helps participants identify barriers and forward-moving Hope Actions as tools for setting TIP goals and achieving positive outcomes.

Roots of Success

All Production Assistants will participate in the Roots of Success environmental literacy and work readiness curriculum. This curriculum covers material on environmental challenges and environmental justice and connects the work being done on the farm to the science behind agriculture and food systems. This program intends to prepare participants for entry level jobs in the green economy.

On-The-Job Farm Training

Production Assistants will engage in hands-on training on our urban farm located in the Englewood neighborhood. This includes experience with all aspects of the crop cultivating and harvesting processes. Additionally, the expectations of Production Assistant on the farm are representative of and help prepare Production Assistants for their post-graduation employment. The possibility for this in-person component is reevaluated regularly in accordance with Covid health and safety protocols.

Supportive Services

While enrolled in the program, all Production Assistants have available to them the support of a Case Manager. Growing Home firmly believes that employment stability cannot be achieved if there are other persisting social service needs. The Case Manager is able to make referrals for and provide support around housing, healthcare, mental health care, substance abuse treatment, childcare and any other needs that might arise.

Job Search

It is Growing Home's goal that all Production Assistants have post-program employment plans in place prior to graduation from Growing Home. In the second half of the program, all participants will receive individualized job search and application support to work towards this goal.

CGLA

Growing Home has a long-standing partnership with Cabrini Green Legal Aid and all Production Assistants are eligible to receive free services from CGLA regarding the sealing and expungement of existing records.

ServSafe

Program participants will have the opportunity to complete a ServSafe Food Handler's Certification during their time in the program. This certification is needed for most food service or food production jobs.

WORK SCHEDULE and ATTENDANCE

Below is a sample average weekly Zoom class and farm schedule. The options for safe, in-person farm shifts are evaluated regularly based on current Covid safety precautions. In total, Production Assistants will be in active programming a minimum of 20 hours per week. Like any workplace, Growing Home holds Production Assistants to a strict attendance policy, and participants are expected to attend all classes and activities to maintain their position in the program.

EQUIPMENT/TECHNOLOGY

Growing Home has a select number of laptop computers and internet hotspots available to loan Production Assistants for the duration of the remote Job Training Program. Once admitted to the program, technology loan agreements can be discussed on an as-needed basis. A lack of access to a computer or internet access should not discourage anyone from applying for the program. However, comfort with basic computer navigation skills (basic typing, operating a computer, navigating the internet) is recommended in order to fully participate in the virtual version of the program.
